Summerville Virtual Education Series

SUMMERVILLE

Family Health Team

A focus of the SFHT is on-going patient education. To support this, an Education Series has been created -- a series of free education sessions delivered by a team of interprofessional health care providers. These sessions focus on disease prevention and management and cover a variety of topics identified in our 2019-20 Annual Patient Experience Survey, a follow-up Mini Program Survey in the fall of 2019 and individual session Evaluations. While originally planned for implementation earlier in the year as a way to reach beyond Summerville patients, the COVID-19 pandemic provided an opportune time to launch the series virtually since most participants had identified a webinar format as a preferred delivery model as opposed in person.
