Caring for residents in the Eastern York Region by the Health For All Community Care Team during COVID-19

The Health for All (HFA) Community Care Team (CCT) spent the past year heavily involved in supporting the local community through the COVID-19 pandemic. As a small team of seven, this interdisciplinary group of practitioners adapted their work to not only meet the needs of their patients but also to provide support to partner organizations. The team is especially unique in its ability to dispatch team members to support a wide range of services such as swab testing, mass vaccination, mobile vaccination, and community education, in addition to treating individual patients virtually whose needs also dramatically shifted throughout the pandemic.
