Nomination: It takes a team: collaboration inside and out

Dryden Area Family Health Team

It takes a team: collaboration inside and out – How our small town responded to the global pandemic.

I would like to recognize the incredible collaboration between the Dryden Area Family Health Team (DAFHT), Dryden Regional Health Centre (DRHC), and the Northwestern Health Unit (NWHU) which occurred throughout the pandemic. Everyone worked together and refused to let the pandemic affect patient care. We united and identified ways to offer vaccination clinics, provide COVID at-home monitoring, provide swabbing through a COVID Assessment Centre, and open and operate a COVID Rapid Treatment and Assessment Centre, all while keeping staff morale high and regular programs and services operating safely. We joined forces in a time of need and responded with goodwill and ingenuity.
