HFHT Green Initiative: Providing a Framework for Environmental Action in Primary Care

The HFHT has developed practical solutions to overcome climate change-related barriers to health by providing an evidence-based program. This completely free program includes an action-based checklist, poster orders, a monthly newsletter, respiratory care teaching kits, a CFPC Mainpro+ accredited webinar series (open to all), an infographic series (including 31 different topics), waiting room videos, prescription templates, and project support. This project has supported environmental efforts in primary care clinics, family health teams, and family health organizations across Ontario and Canada, and has helped direct the efforts of our local GHHN.
