Elevate Your Practice: Special Member Savings on UpToDate with the AFHTO

The Association of Family Health Teams of Ontario (AFHTO), through its collaboration with Wolters Kluwer, is pleased to offer a discount on annual or longer personal UpToDate® or UpToDate Pro Plus subscriptions as a special member benefit. UpToDate is an online, continuously updated clinical decision support resource used by healthcare professionals worldwide to access evidence-based information at the point of care.

AFHTO professional members SAVE 15% and trainee members SAVE 20% on UpToDate!

A personal subscription to UpToDate includes:

- More than 13,000 clinical topics in 25 specialties, plus select medication monographs, including interactive tools and international drug entries from our included drug reference, UpToDate® Lexidrug™.
- The ability to conveniently earn CE/CME/CPD credits while reading topics in UpToDate and redeem the credits online or using the UpToDate mobile app.[†]
- Access to UpToDate® Lab Interpretation and UpToDate® Pathways to help you quickly interpret abnormal test results and choose next steps, along with interactive, evidence-based guides to assist you with navigating complex clinical decisions.

A personal subscription to UpToDate Pro Plus includes everything in a standard UpToDate subscription, plus:[‡]

- UpToDate Expert AI: GenAI synthesizes knowledge across UpToDate topics to provide fast, context-aware recommendations that are specific to your unique clinical questions.
- Kidney Dosing Tool: Quickly access renal dosing recommendations across multiple medications and dialysis modalities.
- Rx Transitions for Mental Health: Get clear, evidence-based support for antidepressant switching, with dosing and side effect information.
- MobileComplete™: Download all UpToDate content onto your mobile device for offline access anywhere.[§]

Choose the subscription that best meets your needs and SAVE 15% OR MORE on your annual or longer UpToDate or UpToDate Pro Plus subscription!*
